“We started the program 2 months ago and it is the first program for children in our city. Because of the situation we could not make the program as usually, but we decided to change the format to make it every day online from 10:00-11:00 and to go live. During the live program we shared important information about health, food, vitamins, friendship, school, book, passion and different topics. Also, we made it possible for children to share their thoughts about the topic hobbies, skills, talents and we showed with the audience. During the two weeks program we received hundreds of photos and videos from kids who were isolated and could be more active to tell their friends, teachers what they are doing, how they are learning and what they are learning. In reward, we awarded the best photos and videos every week and we delivered small presents in their homes. We have also promised that after the quarantine we will organize a trip around the country with all the most active children and that we will invite them into the program.”
