

E-Leng Keng Kong is at home against COVID-19, Cheewan Wisasa, Thailand

“This media was created with concern for children, while none of them designed communication for children during these difficult times. This media was designed for children who were at home during the time of the Covid-19 epidemic. "E-leng keng kong is at home against covid-19" tells about the situation of the spread of the virus and recommends ways to protect yourself from infection. This media is free to download and can be printed for parents to read to children. Children can also colour it in and create their own ideas into pictures in order to review the understanding of self-protection and spend time at home creatively. Started on March 29, 2020 and has been shared more than 1.2k. This media has been contacted and translated for distribution in Japan too.”
