

Where did all the people go?; Inside Our Homes, CBBC/Northern Heart Films, United Kingdom

Where did all the People go?

“We wanted to make something that really connects with young people. After a lot research we found children are facing a really difficult uncertain time especially not being able to see their friends and we wanted to bring them together in this special film. The theme of the film revolves around the idea of being apart but also being very much together. It's a beautiful and emotional piece that captures the feelings of the nation's children in a reflective 2-minute poem.”

Inside our Homes

“Our aim was to inspire young people to stay at home and have lots of fun whilst also showing them what other children are getting up to. We managed to create a catchy verse that we hope helps young people feel excited and inspired to stay at home.”
